President's Corner

Christ is Risen! He is Risen indeed! Alleluia!

The theme verse for this edition of the Alive is so appropriate, don't you think? And I am sure of this, that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ (Philippians 1:6).

As I sat in my favorite chair, looking out to the woods across the road from my house, I thought about all of the work that the Lutheran Women's Missionary League Iowa East District's Mission Grants 2018-2020 are doing. This is mission work that God directed us to focus on over the course of the last two years. Praise be to God that all of the grants we chose in 2018 were fully funded prior to the end of our fiscal year.

I do not think we are done, though. We have made a number of changes in our lives already this year. The next change for Iowa East is to choose and focus on a new set of Mission Grants. While we are not able to meet in Convention in June as originally planned to praise and thank God for the past and to pray for guidance for our future, we can praise and pray as our voting takes place absentee style.

Celebrating will take place, too. Plans are formulating to gather on Saturday, September 12 at Camp Io-Dis-E-Ca for the rest of our convention activities. You will be receiving all the specifics soon.

Another passage came to mind as I read this edition's theme verse; Philippians 1:6. That is Jeremiah 29:11-13, For I know the plans I have for you, declares the LORD, plans for welfare and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope. Then you will call upon me and come and pray to me, and I will hear you. You will seek me and find me, when you seek me with all your heart.

This verse speaks directly to me as well as to the LWML IED. How comforting to me, personally, to know that my Heavenly Father has plans for me and gives me hope for the future. He will be there when I call. Let us all call on Him, both personally and collectively, to guide us through whatever the world puts in our way as LWML IED moves into our next biennium.

Counselors Corner

Dear friends in Christ,

On many a bumper sticker and wall hanging, you can find the statement, "Be patient. God isn't finished with me yet." The sentiment behind that says that we are all a work in progress. When, then, is God finished with you?

Writing to the Philippians, the apostle Paul encouraged his readers, And I am sure of this, that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ (Philippians 1:6). God begins work in you and completes work in you. God knit you together in your mothers' wombs, forming you to be who you are. As if that is not incredible enough in how personally He is involved in starting and shaping your lives, He reaches down again and through the waters of baptism grants you a second birth, a new life that is a blessed gift from your gracious God. He began His work in you.

No matter what stage of life you are in, the work that God began in you in your baptism is ongoing. It is brought to completion at the day of Jesus Christ when you are raised imperishable with a glorious body like His glorious body. In the meantime, God is at work in you. He is at work through you.

One of the key components of LWML is nurturing faith in Christ by encouraging women to be in the Word of God and use their unique gifts in God's service. It begins with that time in the Word. God's Word is powerful, it does things. It accomplishes the purposes for which God sends it forth—the formation and strengthening of faith, the giving of salvation, and equipping to share it with others.

As you prayerfully consider what work God is doing in you, hopefully your eyes are also opened to how God is working through you. Maybe it is through praying for others. Maybe it is by serving in a leadership role in your society or zone or district. Maybe it is through the hospitality shown as you serve a lunch at a funeral. Maybe it is through sending encouraging notes to people who are sick or in care centers.

In all these things and so much more, give thanks to God who plants the seed of faith in you, nurtures it through His Word and Sacraments, and invites you into service in His name. If you do not do it all perfectly, that is all right for now. In this life, you are that work in progress. Jesus has begun the work of faith in you and Jesus will bring that time when perfection is given.

Each day is a new life lived in forgiveness of sins. As members of LWML, you live that life in mission; by your prayers, your mites, and your faithfulness to God's promises in Jesus. Jesus is proclaimed to those who do not know Him, to those who need encouragement and hope amidst the trials and tribulations of life. For you, the strength for this comes from God's Word, the forgiveness of sins, the Lord's Supper and all the good gifts bestowed in worship, in fellowship found in your church home and the LWML. Let us rejoice. God is good!

Christian Life

And I am sure of this, that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ (Philippians 1:6).

Good works are something Lutherans don't like to talk about. We know that the work we do is tainted by sin. Even with the best of intentions, we can quickly fall into a prideful, self-boasting attitude that somehow we have done better work than our neighbor. Or we desire to be recognized or 'liked' for our good work. All of a sudden, that good work isn't looking so good anymore.

But God's work is always good. And the works He prepares for us to do in His name are good. One of these works that He commands us to do is "Go and teach" (Matthew 28:19-20). Through our gifts of just a few coins at a time, we can follow His command and His work can be accomplished throughout the world. We can teach Sunday school or midweek classes at church, or to our own children, grandchildren, or nieces and nephews in our homes. We are taught by our pastors, Bible study leaders, and one another. Being in God's Word and in Christian fellowship with our brothers and sisters in Christ strengthens us and allows the Holy Spirit to grow our faith so that we can know and do the good works God has prepared for us to do. Those works of the Spirit will be completed when Christ returns in all His glory. Come Lord Jesus, quickly!

VP of Human Care

Human care is God in Action through YOU! It's about how you treat others – and that should be with thoughtful care and compassion. You bet it's about those quilts you and your sisters design and stitch and send along to Lutheran World Relief. And absolutely it's about a church volunteering to help rebuild houses after a hurricane or a group marking (and praying over) Bibles for the prison ministry.

But did you stop and think about yourself? Human care is also about how you care for YOU! It's about how you – by yourself – care for others. If you don't take care of yourself, how are you able to care for others? Know that you don't always need a group of people to make a difference in the lives of others. There are the quiet small gestures that can mean so much. It's the well-timed card you send. It's the smile on your face while others grimace (the grocery store). It's making yourself available for listening to someone who needs to talk over their problem. It's the person you choose to be every day, outside the cover of your church crowd.

Joyful Response®

Joyful Response is a free electronic mite-giving opportunity for individuals and societies of LWML through Lutheran Church Extension Fund. This is a great way to continue giving your mite donations as many societies and zones are unable to meet as we usually do. If you are interested, complete your form found at <http://lwml-ied.org/societyresources/form-joyful-response-lwml-mite-enrollment-s00550-1/>.

LWML MAILBOX MEMBER PROGRAM

Check out the Mailbox Member Program at <https://www.lwml.org/mailbox>. This program is about reaching out to the women of your congregation who may not be able to come to a monthly meeting, but they still have a desire to be involved in LWML in some way. There are great tips and resources on how to get started and how to sustain a program in your church.

Charmed

It started in the late 1950's - something of which I am very grateful. I was a young girl, the beginning times, I heard the conversations between my mother, Joyce Kehe - Ladies Aid member at Immanuel Church - Klinger, Iowa, with my grandmother, Adella Schultz - Dorcas member at St. John Church - Waverly, Iowa. Those conversations about their church women's organizations continued through the decades. As I grew older, together we talked about LWML, missions, mite box offerings, prayers, fellowship, Bible studies, rallies, doing servant events, and more. Of course, being Lutherans, the topic of food was included - how delicious that casserole/salad/dessert tasted that was served at the last LWML meeting AND ideas of what food to serve when it was our turn to serve! Hmm...that reminds me, my grandma and mom made THE best jello - "Lutherans do love jello!"

As time went by, my grandma and mother were called to the church triumphant. They have received their crown of life. I rejoice with them, but I miss our conversations about LWML. Then the idea came to mind that I would create a "conversation piece of LWML" to joyfully share with others what fills my heart - through conversations. On the cross necklace there are charms of mustard seeds, LWML, purple heart, mites, plus birthstones and initials of my grandmother and mother.

There is so much more to share with you - let's have a conversation!

Serving the Lord with gladness,

Volunteering at Orphan Grain Train in Clemons

What happens when you volunteer at Orphan Grain Train in Clemons, Iowa? You get to work with fellow brothers and sisters serving God by serving their neighbors, here in the United States and also abroad. Every Tuesday morning, 10 to 15 men and women gather at the Orphan Grain Train Building in Clemons from 8 a.m. to noon. We sort and pack clothes for all ages. We put together layette, school, and hygiene kits. We box quilts, blankets, and other bedding. These items are all donated by our brothers and sisters here in Iowa. Then we load containers for shipping as requested by the Home Office in Norfolk, Nebraska. This past fall the volunteers filled a semi that went to New Mexico and Arizona Native American Ministries. We also sent a container overseas to Ukraine. Three carloads of men's items were donated to the Caring Connection in Marshalltown. Another international shipment is planned for early this year. It is a blessing to be part of a group that serves the Lord by providing for the needs of peoples all over the world. Visitors are always welcome, and the coffee is always ready at 10 a.m.!
